The screenshot displays a Windows desktop environment. On the left, a Notepad window titled 'Untitled - Notepad' contains the following text:

I dont have any sort of mic so ill just type this out cause i saw a few people with this problem.

If you just want to record sound that you play on your computer without listening to virtual cable say trial over and over then these settings should work for you

The program streaming audio recorder works well and best of all its free without too many limitations for myself If you just need clips of sound this works well. otherwise just get a cracked version or something

You will just have to use it in the background to record audio while you do whatever and synchronize it later in whatever software you use.

On the right side of the desktop, there are two overlapping windows. The top one is a 'Trial Version Reminder' dialog box with the following content:

Trial version limitations

- 1, You can download only one piece of music at the same time.
- 2, You can only record 3 minutes audio and music.
- 3, Pop up trial version reminder and wait 5 seconds.

Purchase now and get these benefits:

- 1, You will not see any more reminders.
- 2, All trial version limitations will be removed.
- 3, Free updates within the same major version.
- 4, Free lifetime technical support by email.
- 5, 30-day money back guarantee.

Buttons: Learn more about it, Register, Order now, Evaluate

The bottom window is the 'Volume Mixer - Speakers (Conexant CX20671 SmartAudio HD)'. It shows volume sliders for 'Speakers', 'Streaming Audio Recorder', 'Audio transfer application', and another 'Audio transfer application'. The system tray at the bottom right shows the time as 10:15 PM.
